Lincoln-Way Wins County Track Meet

Lincoln-Way High School's track team, coached by Joseph Rodriguez of Mokena, won the Will County track meet run off last Saturday on the Collins Street field at Joliet.

Lincoln-Way, in the A division (large schools) piled up 127 points. Lockport Central was next with 80; Joliet Central 78; Joliet West, 75; Crete-Monee, 38; Lockport West, 30 and Joliet East, 21.

Lincoln - Way's Steve Mangun ran the mile in 4:24.0 to beat the former Wilco standard of 4:29.1 set last year by Scott Glasscock of Joliet East, and Glasscock's mark of 4:24.6 set in 1967.

Rick Loucks, of L-W, set a new meet mark in the 440 with a time of :50.2.

Lincoln - Way's David Merrick, a sophomore, ran the two miles in 9:46.6 to better the former record of 10:03.4, also set by a Lincoln-Way runner, Gary Moss, in the 1968 meet. Merrick, it was said would have done better had the competition been stiffer. As it was he lapped the other five runners in the event.

Lincoln-Way's Lee Hartman took the pole vault. He cleared the bar at 12'4 1/2", an inch under the mark set in 1967 by Dale Fabian of Crete-Monee.

Al Davis, of Lincoln-Way, won the 880 in 2:00.9, and the Knights easily won the mile relay, with a time of 3:27.7. Mangun ran his quarter in :53.0, and Mike Craven and Al Davis stepped off their distances in the same time. Then Rick Loucks covered the last quarter in :49.5, which put Lincoln-Way in front with time and distance to spare.

Rodriguez was real proud of his team.

Firemen Mail Tickets To Card Party, Dance

The 24th annual pinochle party and dance sponsored by the Mokena Volunteer

RAYMOND LORENZ, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lorenz, of 19443 Marties Lane, Mokena, has been promoted to managing editor of "Fishing & Hunting Guide," a monthly outdoor magazine.

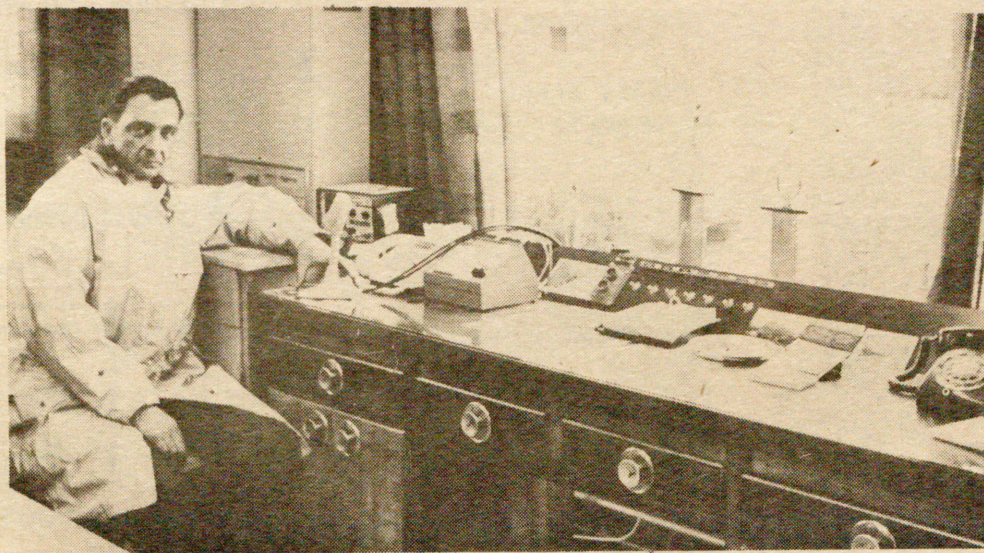

Lorenz graduated from Lincoln-Way High School in 1961, and Joliet Junior College in 1965. While attending the school of journalism at Wisconsin State University at Eau Claire, he wrote a weekly outdoor column for the student newspaper. He also free-lanced and sold several feature articles to national outdoor magazines. Lorenz has recently written the narration for a feature length outdoor film.

Fire Department is to be held Saturday, May 17, and Saturday, May 24, in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, Wolf Rd.

The pinochle party is scheduled on the first date, the dance on the second. At one time this was a joint affair, pinochle and dancing, but it was found that while many just wanted to play cards or to dance there were still quite a number that enjoyed both forms of entertainment so for several years now the pinochle party and the dance have been separate but the tickets are good for both.

The tickets, by the way, are $2 each, or $4 a couple. There will be prizes, according to those in charge, and flowers for the women.

The firemen have mailed tickets to all residents of the fire protection district and are hoping for a speedy and generous response. These firemen serve the community without compensation. A portion of the support for the department comes from the fire protection tax but it is a low tax and the revenue it produces is not sufficient to provide all of the things necessary to keep the department on an efficient basis. That is where the dollars spent for the card party and dance come in, it was pointed out.

NEW COMMUNICATION CENTER at fire house of the Mokena Volunteer Fire Department. It includes the base station (KQL-902), 30 home receivers and four mobile units, and cost $14,000. This amount is being paid by the firemen thru their annual social functions. There is a white phone for emergency calls—doctor, ambulance and the like. Fire calls come over a red phone. A code selector and microphone, which Chief Robert Rust is holding, is used in activating the home receivers. By means of tone signals a single squad or the entire department can be called in a matter of seconds. (Graphic Newspapers photo)

Loyalty Day Program On At Lincoln-Way Tomorrow

May 1, which is "Loyalty Day" in the canons of the Veterans of Foreign Wars when patriotism and love of country is stressed at public meetings.

Loyalty Day has been observed for many years at Lincoln-Way High School, and a program is planned for there tomorrow under the sponsorship of the two VFW posts of New Lenox and Mokena.

The program will be conducted in the school gymnasium, beginning at 10 o'clock, and will be broadcast by Radio Station WJOL of Joliet.

Attorney George E. Sangmeister, of Mokena and Frankfort, will be master of ceremonies and Rabbi M.M. Hershman, of Joliet, will be the speaker. Rabbi Hershman is brilliant man and an accomplished speaker.

The Lincoln-Way concert band will play and the chorus sing. Grade schools in the area have been invited to send representative pupils to the school for the occasion. The high school students occupy the bleachers while the guests occupy the chairs on the floor.

County officials have been invited to the program, according to Supt. A. Hunter Chapman, of Lincoln-Way, and the mayors of the area towns also have had invitations.

Loyalty Day observance at Lincoln-Way High School has always been an impressive occasion and there are people from various parts of the county, including Joliet, who make a special point in attending.

Missing from the affair this year will be one of the originators, Harold L. Dailey, a former commander of Harry Anderson Post, VFW, of New Lenox. Mr. Dailey, who made all the arrangements and served as master of ceremonies, was killed last year in an automobile accident.

District officers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will attend the ceremony.

Gov. Samuel Shapiro was the speaker at the Loyalty Day program last year.

The Loyalty Day program, it was pointed out, is a refreshing note in these days when it seems too much publicity is given rats and Reds and their desecration of the nation's Flag and principles and the flouting of law which for some unexplainable reason goes unpunished.

It has been pointed out repeatedly that the lunatic fringe attracted by flag and draft card burning and manipulated by the Commies are a small minority, over-publicized. The majority, while decent, law abiding citizens are not so demonstrative, it was explained, and that is why occasions as Loyalty Day observance is important.

U.S. 30 Poor Relation Of Area Road Family

U.S. 30, which bears some resemblance to a modern highway from Harlem Av. eastward to Chicago Heights, but reverts to a narrow roadway from that point west thru Joliet and far beyond, will continue to be an inferior road for the next four or five years at least.

That was one of the items of information brought to the Frankfort Chamber of Commerce at its dinner meeting last Wednesday night at the Prestwood Country Club, by Sigmund Ziejewski, an engineer with the state department of public works and buildings.

He told the Frankfort people that the state was without funds to improve U.S. 30 and there appeared to be no likelihood there would be any for the next four or five years. Last year the state widened Rt. 30 from Cicero to Harlem Av.

The state is going to widen Rt. 30 for a very short distance west of the diamond-interchange with I-80 beyond New Lenox. The stakes and a few furrows show that the widening will take a slice off the yards of Providence High School and the NI-Gas Co., fronting on Rt. 30, and Washington St., instead of ending in a point will be cut over a couple hundred of yards to the west to make a connection with Gougar Rd.

Ziejewski also talked about the proposed south suburban expressway system, one branch of which is scheduled to parallel Wolf Rd., and skirting Frankfort on the west continue south to join Steger Rd., and thence east into interstate highways in Indiana. The talk is that the road will run approximately along a line near 108th Av.

The speaker said this project may not get started for several years, unless an international airport should be located in the southwest suburban area. In that event, he said, such a road would get top priority.

The Village of Frankfort is part of the Joliet Area Transportation group, which means that the Frankfort area can share in federal and state funds that may be allocated for building roads.

The Orland Park Woman's Club held their covered dish luncheon April 16 at the Community Center Foundation. It was the annual meeting and reports of officers and chairmen were given as was the report on the district art contest. The theme of the contest was Peace-Home and Friendship. Rules for paintings were to be original, good design, composition and neatness. Contest was for 7th and 8th grade students. The Great American Car Classic, Cub Scout Pack 318's Pinewood Derby was held Friday, April 18 in the Orland Park School Gymnasium. Everyone was a winner, because the Pinewood Derby is the culmination of a month's enjoyment for a father and his son as they design, carve and paint their "dream car."

These cars then race against each other. About 100 cars were weighed, inspected, approved and admired by the Pinewood committee. After many exciting "heats", the contest between the two cars competing for first and second place had to be re-run four times.

The following four boys and their cars finally emerged as the top winners: Ron Snodgrass, first; Peter Cosgrove, second; Jeff Lempera, third; Dean Estand, fourth. All boys participating in the race received blue ribbons and the boys who won the first four places received trophies.

The results of last month's inspection proved to be almost as exciting--here are the top four dens listed in the order they placed according to their percentage points: Mrs. Whitfield's Den No. 8 with 95.8%; Mrs. Stevens' Den No. 4 with 95.3%; Mrs. Buck's Den No. 1 tied with Mrs. Bank's Den No. 6 with 94.3%; Mrs. Snodgrass' Den No. 2 with 94.0%. No Help From FCC For Frankfort's TV Ills

TV set owners at Frankfort are becoming disillusioned. They had been under the impression that the Federal Communications Commission, more familiarly known as the FCC, is a sort of guardian angel that is supposed to shush static and put the kihutis on interference from other electronic machinery.

In a recent item in this paper relative to complaints of Frankfort TV owners that the Will County radio transmitting gear that is poised high over the village of Frankfort, it was stated that perhaps the complaints were going to the wrong place when addressed to the county board and the sheriff's office. It was said that perhaps the complaints should have been forwarded to the FCC.

This brought forth some pungent comment from Village Clerk Walter Pfaff. Mr.

Pfaff said that he has written several letters to the FCC to the effect that the county radio transmitters were blotting out pictures on TV screens in the village.

And what did the FCC have to say? Pfaff said he did get an answer to one of the letters from the village. The FCC had nothing to say about the county's radio sets, but it said there was an easy way out for the TV owners. All they had to do, said the FCC, was get appropriate filters for their sets, and presto, their troubles would be over, at some expense, of course.

Mr. Pfaff then wrote Radio Corporation of America, the poobahs of the wireless industry. Appropriate filters? The engineers at RCA had no knowledge of any filter, appropriate or otherwise that TV set owners could put on but they did say there were filters the county could clap on their transmitters that would turn the trick.

These filters, Pfaff was told, would cost about $350 each and the county would need about six of them. This, apparently is too much money for the county to spend. It is much cheaper, it was said, to wreck the reception of the Frankfort residents. After all they are only voters that can be persuaded to live and let live.

The first county radio transmitter was hoisted to the top of the Frankfort water tower at the request of former sheriff Joseph Trizna. In return the village was to get a radio hookup for free with the county system. The village got nothing, but static, according to Pfaff.

Also on top of the water tower is a transmitter originally set up to broadcast warnings to school rooms throughout the county in the event of tornados or other fearsome threats. There was supposed to be a generator there that would provide the village hall with enough power to have lights in the event of a disaster.

The generator has never worked, as far as the village board knows, and the transmitter is now used by the county to send messages to its trucks.

The Frankfort village board has repeatedly asked the county to remove both transmitters, the generator and any other electronic device it may have in or about the village hall so the residents can get proper TV reception but so far Frankfort could be in Tibet as far as the county is concerned, it was pointed out.

According to irate TV owners when the county radio transmitters are on the pictures on their sets appear to be afflicted with St. Vitus dance and if the set is for color the color drains away and the picture resembles something like might be found at a seance.

Just recently, Mr. Pfaff said, he talked with a technician that was familiar with the county radio system. The reason the transmitters were foisted on Frankfort, he said, was not that Frankfort's water tower set height records, but that the county was getting so many complaints from Joliet TV set owners that the county decided to farm the radio out.

2 Area Residents Die, 1 Injured In 2 Crashes

Two area residents were killed and another critically injured in two highway crashes over the weekend.

Dead, are Edward L. Hooten, 21, of 138 W. Pacific St., and Mrs. Peggy Pauline Stone, 22, of 93d St., Frankfort.

Listed in critical condition at Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet, is Elmer Triem, 74, New Lenox.

Mrs. Stone and her husband, Tarry, had some friends in Saturday night, and later in the evening it was decided to borrow a guitar and Mrs. Stone and Hooten went to pick it up. Mr. Stone had intended to go to, it was said, but then elected to stay home.

Hooten was driving and collided with a semi-trailer at the intersection of I-57 and U.S. 30. Hooten and Mrs. Stone were taken to St. James Hospital, Chicago Heights, according to Dist. 4 state police, and pronounced dead on arrival. The driver of the semi-trailer, Stanley Szyper, of 6610 S. Knox, Chicago, escaped without injury. No tickets were issued.

Elmer Triem was injured Saturday afternoon when the car in which he was a passenger, driven by his wife, Elizabeth, 67, north on Cedar Rd., collided with a west-bound car on U.S. 6. The other car was driven by Miss Barbara Denison, 20, of Oak Forest. She and two passengers, Theresa Neding, 21, Joliet, and Carl Bilthius, 18, Tinley Park, escaped with minor hurts. Mrs. Triem was released after treatment at the hospital but Mr. Triem was placed in intensive care. Mrs. Triem was charged by state police of Dist. 5 with failure to yield right of way at a stop.

The bodies of Mrs. Stone and Hooten were taken to Frankfort Community Chapel, and were taken from there Monday to their original homes.

Mrs. Stone was taken to the Bisplinghoff Funeral home at Chaffee, Mo., where services were held today (April 30) from St. Paul Lutheran Church. Besides her husband Mrs. Stone is survived by a son Tarry R., 5, and a daughter, Debra, 3; mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs.

Loy Stone, of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Stone, of Chaffee; a sister, Kitty Kathleen, and a brother, Dennis, also of Chaffee, and another brother, Jesse, of Cherry Point, N.C. The Stones have been living at Frankfort for about two and a half years.

Edward L. Hooten was taken to the Osborne funeral home at Kell, Ill., where services were conducted today with interment in Pleasant Hill Cemetery at Kell. He was born at Salem, which is near Kell and he and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Hooten, have been residing at Frankfort for the past six years. He entered the Army in October, 1966, and was discharged last October after a year in Viet Nam. He was employed at the Electro-Motive plant, LaGrange, and was a member of the U.A.W. local there. He also was a member of Bobzin - Swinford Post, American Legion.

Besides his parents he is survived by his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hooten, of Kell, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Woodward, also of Kell.

L-W Step-Up Day Saturday

The students will tour the building and meet some of the student council members, faculty and administrators. The boys will meet the coaches and the girls will be measured for their physical education uniforms.

They will also receive physical examination information and forms. Complete physical examinations are required before entrance at Lincoln-Way.

Students will have a chance to ask questions and receive answers in a general question and answer session.

Lincoln-Way busses will run to take the students to school and then home again. Students should ask a friend who goes to Lincoln-Way where the busses stop.

L-W Board, Staff Adopts Philosophy

Lincoln-Way Community High School ought to be a positive and constant reaffirmation of our faith, acceptance, and dedication to the fundamental concepts of American democracy; and at the operational level ought to be a living forum whereby apparent imperfections arising from conflicts between the sacred and inherent rights of society and the individual can be resolved within a framework of law and reason, thereby preserving human dignity and the fabric of society in a spirit of freedom, equality, justice, and mutual responsibility.

Lincoln-Way Community High School ought to recognize and accept as its primary role the preservation and transmission of our historical and cultural experience, past and present. It should reject equally the blandishment of extremists, those who would have the school a passive entity, and the social reconstructionists who view the school solely as a change agent. Lincoln-Way Community High School ought to be ever cognizant and responsive to the phenomenon of change by giving leadership, direction, and substance to such change within an atmosphere of community approval. By definition, Lincoln-Way Community High School is a public entity and as such has a fundamental obligation to serve the local community, the state and the nation, from whence it - the school - derives its social, legal, political, and financial justification and source of being.

In accepting the inherent right and privilege of an individual to a free public education, Lincoln-Way Community High School ought to recognize that not all individuals want to exercise their right and privilege. There will be individuals who will conduct themselves in a manner not conducive to the realizations of society's aspirations and goals, simply because they hold quite differing views as to what should constitute the nature of the educational experience. Consequently, Lincoln-Way Community High School ought to remind the individual recipient of the school's efforts that with rights and privileges goes responsibility, and in the exercise of their prerogatives they have a reciprocal obligation not to impinge on the rights and privileges of others and thereby defeating or impairing the school's mandated function be it legal or philosophical.

Lincoln-Way Community High School ought to reaffirm the function, authority, prerogatives, and responsibilities of all roles in the organizational structure of the school. Special effort ought to be made to reaffirm the vertical and horizontal relationships between Board of Education, administration, instructional staff - certified and non-certified - and students simply because the traditional and assumed distinctions are being obliterated or contested in many public schools today. People - participants in the organization - need to understand, accept, and remember the dimensions and limits of the role assigned to them and concentrate on fulfilling their task and theirs alone. Simply put, administrators ought to administer, teachers ought to teach and students ought to learn. And in the measurement and evaluation of performance of task, Lincoln-Way ought never to accept popularity as the sole criteria - or as a substitute - for respect, competence, and hardwork whether it be the contributions of Board of Education, administration, staff or student.

Lincoln-Way Community High School ought to accept and assist youth in his perpetual struggle to achieve self-identification and individual oneness while helping youth develop awareness, acceptance, understanding, consideration, and tolerance toward society in its ever changing form and demand.

With this in mind, Lincoln-Way Community High School has the ultimate obligation to provide equal educational opportunity, either singularly and/or cooperatively, through instruction and a program of studies directed toward strengthening man's commonality via basic education; yet sufficiently broad, comprehensive, and balanced enough to allow human difference be it one of capacity, aspiration, interest, or circumstance of life being circumscribed only by the reality of insufficient knowledge and/or financial limitations but never by indifference and/or special interest.

Lincoln-Way Community High School ought to recognize the value of learning experiences in both its formal and informal dimensions and hence provide a dynamic student activity program to complement formal classroom instruction.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Lincoln-Way High School board of education has adopted philosophy subscribed to by the administrative and teaching staffs of the school which your editor believes can be read profitably by everyone. In these days when so many school people appear to be indecisive, uncertain, and bewildered and gutless as to what course to pursue, it is refreshing to find an educational group with a definite goal and a determination to reach it.)

Lincoln-Way's attitudes and policies toward grading and promotion ought to mirror our acceptance of differences in human potentiality and cause us to measure human growth and progress in other than absolute competitive standards. Promotion and non-promotion ought to hinge upon the answer to two fundamental questions: Given the nature of this individual have we, Lincoln-Way, as an institution done everything within our present knowledge and capacity to help the individual; and has the individual exerted the necessary energy to help himself. In the final analysis our answers to these questions will be the true measure of our success in bridging the distance between practice and ideal.

Dilating Drugs Can Cause Glaucoma

Copyright 1969 World Book Science Service

If you're seeing halos around traffic lights, your vision is blurring, or you feel pain in the eyeballs, better see your ophthalmologist immediately.

These are the classic symptoms of angle-closure glaucoma, the most critical of the three types of glaucoma which affect adults over 30.

Medical MEMO

By BETTY JOHN

Angle-closure glaucoma develops acutely and without warning. Often, an eye doctor's routine checkup gives no hint of an impending attack. However, certain anatomical aspects of the eye do. If symptoms are not immediately recognized and treated with surgery, blindness almost always follows.

Dr. W. Morton Grant of Harvard Medical School points out that a large percentage of angle-closure glaucoma cases are due to, or are aggravated by, drugs which dilate the pupils.

Doctors run the risk, he warns, of precipitating this type of glaucoma by prescribing administration of drugs such as atropine, amprotopine, cyclopentolate, homotropine or scopolamine over prolonged periods.

About one out of every 4,000 persons over 30 develops angle-closure glaucoma this way. Even the hallucinogenic drugs, which dilate the pupils, can cause angle-closure glaucoma.

Open-angle glaucoma, a more common form of the disease, is more likely to be precipitated by the corticosteroid drugs (cortisone etc.) It tends to be chronic and most often occurs without warning.

But, unlike angle-closure glaucoma, it can be controlled medically for long periods with only a slow loss of sight. In the U.S. it happens to one in every 100 persons.

It and the third type, secondary glaucoma, which follows other eye disorders, usually are discovered during routine eye examinations.

TAPING FALLACY

To prevent breaks and sprains, football players permit yards of tape to be wound around their ankles. Dr. Albert B. Ferguson, Jr., of the University of Pittsburgh believes this puts the player in an orthopedic bind. "It's expensive, time-wasting and actually harmful," he says.

JOGGING FALLACY

The same Dr. Ferguson, an orthopaedic surgeon, says that jogging does not develop a stronger cardiovascular system. "Sprinting until one runs out of breath might," he says, "but guidelines for various ages, weights and physical conditions are still necessary."

BASIC FOOD

The breadfruit, virtually unknown in the United States and Canada, is one of the most important foods of the tropical islands of the Pacific, and is common in the West Indies. It is about the size of a child's head, and contains mealy pulp that looks and feels like fresh bread.

Togetherhness In A Hornet's Nest

Copyright 1969 World Book Science Service

Why do insect colonies stick together? There are a number of "social insects," as they're called, that have what appears to be a very high order of social organization.

But what keeps them together, cooperating for the common good? It doesn't make sense to suppose that there's some kind of "team spirit" at work.

Two Israeli scientists recently figured out why workers of the Oriental hornet feed and look after "youngsters" in their nests.

It turns out they need them! The researchers observed that the hornet larvae (an early stage in the insects' development) produce droplets of saliva whenever a worker-hornet feeds them.

The workers then drink the saliva. When larvae were taken away from the workers, the adult hornets died or deserted.

Further study showed that the worker-hornets did not have any substances that help to break down proteins into amino acids. (Proteins and amino acids are vital to life.) But the larvae did have the needed substances.

So it appears that the worker hornets don't look after the young just to be nice. Without the saliva from the larvae, the adults could not obtain amino acids to use in building up new proteins.

The queen hornet in particular needs to build new proteins for the thousands of eggs she lays in a season.

Can you make sense out of the "togetherness" of all the letters in the picture? Find 15 words of five or more letters in the hornet's nest.

ANSWERS: insect, hornet, family, saliva, larvae, protein, worker, queen, adult, social, spirit, stage, season, substance, organization.

Worthless, Maybe, But Pretty, These Stocks

Buried deep within the 41,000,000 files of Circuit Court Clerk, Matthew J. Danaher, are some curios that belong in a museum.

They include hundreds of beautiful, hand - engraved stock certificates with a face value of over $250,000,000.

But before anyone gets excited about these supposedly valuable stocks consider this:

Their actual value is less than $750.

The documents are part of the clerk's Desperate Assets records which contain items from the estates of deceased persons.

They are called "Desperate Assets" because at the time of the court action, they had no real value but appeared to have a potential worth.

Rather than destroy these items, the Probate Court judges declare them desperate assets and order the clerk's office to keep them for a minimum of 20 years.

But since the Cook County circuit court began keeping these files in 1925, more than 10,000 have been recorded.

"We've been reluctant to destroy them," Danaher said, "because we are concerned that we will burn something that could become extremely valuable."

"Last year an attorney redeemed some copper mine stocks that had been for a company whose business suddenly mushroomed. He said that they now are worth $47,000."

An audit of the first 100 desperate assets files showed that they contain stock certificates with a face value of $2,564,432.23. These stocks had an actual value of $7.50. This was for 250 shares of the Dr. Jackpot Mining Co., valued at three cents a share.

"Searching through these files shows that there hasn't been much of a change over the years in man's hope to get rich quick," Danaher said.

"Nowadays people buy more exotic stocks, like uranium, but the hope is still to make a quick killing in stocks."

The certificates, although not worth much as stocks, may have a value as works of art.

"Collectors prize these as antiques," Danaher said. "They are extensively engraved and depict mining scenes or railroad historical scenes."

"A couple of years ago, a man asked to buy them to use for wallpaper in a restaurant he wanted to open on LaSalle Street. We were afraid to sell them, altho we had a perfect right to do so, because someday the stock certificates might become valuable."

"You can imagine the problems if it turned out the restaurant wallpaper was worth a fortune," he said.

Altho these files represent only a small portion of the records of the clerk's office, they are indicative of a growing storage and recordkeeping problem, Danaher noted.

"Our files are growing at a rate of 3,500,000 a year," he said. "We're just plain running out of space to store them."

Many of the records of the clerk's office are kept in space owned by other public agencies at no extra cost to the taxpayer, Danaher noted.

"But we are being asked to give up some of this free space," he said. "Our only alternative is to pay for private storage."

The law requires that these records be kept forever.

"The answer lies in a massive microfilming program to reduce the amount of storage space required," he said.

"Altho microfilm is not cheap, it is a one-time expense and storage costs come up every year," he said.

"If we don't find some method of cutting our storage needs and costs, we will be buried under a mountain of paperwork," Danaher said.

Celtic Nine Wins Twin Bill

Providence High School's baseball team has a four game winning streak going after taking a double header Saturday at Chicago.

The Celtics, playing Quigley North, took the first game 9 to 2 and the second 8 to 5.

Rich Baranak, a freshman, was credited with the win in the opener. He allowed but three hits and fanned 11. It was his second triumph of the season. He has one loss. Bernie Keigher, a southpaw sophomore was the winning pitcher in the second game. It was his second win, with no losses. Keigher allowed six hits but had difficulty at times finding the plate and as a consequence allowed six walks.

Special Day For Pix At Big Flower Show

Camera fans for the fifth consecutive year will benefit from a special early opening of the Chicago World Flower and Garden Show. This will be on Sunday, March 23, the second day of the big exposition at the International Amphitheatre, which starts March 22 and runs thru Sunday, March 30.

Admission for camera fans from 8 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. at the special opening will be at a reduced price of $2.00 compared with the regular price of $2.50 and only persons carrying a camera or photographic equipment will be admitted during those hours.

Persons who take advantage of the early opening will be able to photograph the show's gardens and exhibits leisurely, unhampered by the main crowds in attendance during the regular hours.

Those who come during the early opening hours will be entitled to stay at the show for the remainder of the day.

Especially appealing to camera - carrying show visitors will be the Kodak Photo Garden. The garden is attuned to the theme of the show, "Springtime Festival of Music and Flowers," and a focal point of the exhibit will be brilliantly colored water fountains which will sway to music. An added attraction for photographers will be a burro attended by models in Sicilian costumes.

At the photo garden will be an information booth manned by Eastman Kodak experts who will offer advice on how to get the best pictures at the show. Folders providing tips on photographing flowers will be distributed at the booth.

She feels fine, she said, and looks it too.

Letters to the Editor

Sir:

About the letter which quite a few of Mokena taxpayers received last week, from the Mulford Engineering Service of Chicago Heights, Ill., sent out by the Mokena Village Board, will say, that was a good last shot which the outgoing village president and village trustees gave to our citizenry. No wonder none of them, whose terms have expired, wanted to be a candidate for re-election!

Everyone realizes that proper drainage is important to our property, but the shock of much over a million dollars, even though it can be spread over a ten year period, gives most of us a jolt. Why did not our village board members let it be known many months ago, that they were considering this project? Or did they think it is none of our business?

We have been reading in our local papers for much over two years, about the New Lenox board trying to solve their sewage and water system problems, and the people there were well informed about everything concerning their problems.

But Mokena, in my opinion, since we have a village manager, by appointment, doesn't work like that. I have been told that in the past, where there was a surface water problem, that the property owners in their section, corrected their water problem, by each paying their share of the cost.

According to this engineer's letter, the cost would be $25 per running foot with interest at 6% for the balance unpaid. At this rate a 50 foot lot would amount to $1,250.00 not including interest. Have you figured what that interest would amount to?

There are quite a few property owners in Mokena who are living on a small pension, and some there be perhaps, who have a little nest-egg put aside for emergencies and could never afford this huge amount. Many have struggled for years to have a home of their own so when old age comes, they would be situated nicely. It would be inhuman to thus have their property confiscated, and with nothing to say about it. Is this Russia?

The letter plainly states that it is not necessary that a majority of the people need to favor this project. Quoting from this letter: "In the final analysis, the determination of whether to proceed with the project rests SOLELY with the board of local improvements and subsequent court determination that the benefits to the assessed properties exceed the cost." Thus the thought is projected that the court may declare, and I doubt that, that these benefits will exceed the cost, even though the property owners have no money to pay these assessments. Is it then a case, that the property owners have no right to say, within reason, what they can or cannot do with their property?

How do we know, if this project goes through, that the handling of it will not turn out to be a flop, like the paving of our Front street is now? O, yes, the village board members have many excuses for this ridiculous situation, but if the village attorney, an out-of-town man, who runs our village, was equal to this project, it would have been started sooner so as to avoid all uncertainties.

Have you sent in your straw ballot, marked NO? Better do it now! An Irate Citizen

Open Letter from the HIRSCHS'

Dear friends,

In adding new equipment, we often think we have reached the final requirements, but it does not work out that way.

New methods and developments constantly present themselves in the funeral director's profession, and these changes call for further investment on our part.

We believe, however, that the public appreciates and benefits from these continuing improvements.

Frankfort Softball League Is Opening

The sun and 60 and 70 degree temperatures that marked the official end of winter and the advent of spring gives emphasis to the announcement of the Frankfort 16-inch Softball League that it is getting things ready for its second season.

There will be six teams in the league. Games will be played on Tuesday and Thursday nights at Frankfort Community Park with game times at 8 and 9 o'clock.

The schedule also calls for a double loss elimination tournament and an "all star" game in September to wind up the season. Individual and team trophies will be presented for the first, second and third places in the league and in the tourney.

Managers or teams interested should get in touch with Bill Frankenburg at 469-2277 as soon as possible.

The Frankfort village board, which has been helping with improvements at the park for many years is still picking up tabs there until the park district formed last year can get on its financial feet. So far it doesn't have any money.

Auxiliary Plans Spring Luncheon

by Mrs. Eugene Anderson

Homer Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary will make final plans for their spring buffet luncheon and white elephant sale at their Monday, May 5, meeting at 8 p.m. at the fire station. Luncheon will be held at the fire station with serving from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12. Tickets may be purchased from auxiliary members or at the door. An express line will be available for working persons on a limited lunch schedule.

Ladies of Homer are asked for donations of salads or hot dishes. Hostesses for May are Edith Schacke and Merita Doede.

Annual Meeting

Barnet Cemetery Corporation meeting will be held May 3 at 8 p.m. at Homer Congregational Church. A report on the financial condition of the corporation will be given.

Bus Service

Homer Congregational Church started bus ministry April 27 by providing free bus service to Sunday Bible School and Church.

Each Sunday morning free bus service will be provided for children, youth, and adults who live along a route which starts on Rt. 7 and turns north at Robson winding northeast to 143rd St. at Creme Rd. From 143rd St. the route turns south at the Will-Cook Rd. to Rt. 7 where it turns west and continues to Codo Dr. and to the church.

Bus begins the route at 8:30 a.m. and returns at noon. Anyone wishing bus service is asked to call the church office at 838-1416 for further information. There is a class and place for everyone.

Escon Club Meet

The Junior Escon Club held its last formal meeting of the school year recently at Homer School gym with 49 in attendance.

Plans for a field trip to the Ceco Club May 17 were discussed. Superintendent Luther Schilling announced that consent slips would be sent home with students to be signed by parents.

Speaker was John Alfrevic, a civil engineer by profession and also owner and operator of Alfies Rock Shop in Palos Heights. He gave a brief history of lapidary, the steps of fashioning a stone and how the potential for a suitable stone can be determined by the mohs scale of hardness.

Alfrevic showed samples from his collection as finished jewelry and unmounted stones.

Students arriving on time received specimens of core samplings taken from deep underground deposits in the actual drilling for natural gas. They were donated by the Illinois Gas Company.

A specimen of petrified fossil sharks' teeth from Florida was given to each person in attendance. An aventurine necklace, won by Debra Allott and a Mexican Bala tie won by Don Kelly, were all donated by Alfrevic.

4-H Meeting

Homer Fire Flies 4-H Club met Tuesday at Homer town hall with 18 members and two adults present.

A talk was given by Duane Barr and a demonstration given by Veronica Konow.

Refreshments were served by April Sartori and Kerry Rutherford.

Next meeting will be May 20 at Homer town hall.
